Joseph is a very active eight year$old boy. In the autumn, he plays in a hockey team. He practises every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon and has a match every Sunday morning. He enjoys hockey very much but it is not the only sport in his life. In the winter, Joseph plays basketball in the school team. When it is spring time, basketball matches are finished but he starts doing another sport: baseball. In the spring and summer, baseball is his cherished sport after school; he likes it very much. - 10 Most American children have different life styles. They only have a 45$minute gymnastics class at school once a week. They do not exercise after school so Joseph is more pushing than most of the American children of his age.

Many people believe that the fitness and health of American children are in trouble. For example, some children are very fat; some of them have high cholesterol and some 15 always feel tired. Doctors say that when American children exercise more, they can get better and feel happier. Parents can also do something for their children. They can help them get into different activities. In most European countries, all school children do one hour of exercise every day. These exercises are not always team sports. They may be simple daily activities; for example, jumping, running, climbing ropes, etc.

- 20 When children exercise regularly at school, they have the habit of exercising so they still exercise when they become adults. School is a good place to learn these habits or practices. Active healthy children can become active healthy adults.

Dear Mathew,

Great! We are computer link pen friends now. I got your address from the school board. There were a lot of addresses there but I wanted to email you because you are from Germany and I haven't got any European friends. I love computers. There are computers 5 at my school and there is a computer at home. It is my dad's but I can use it whenever I want. I can use the Internet for many things: I can write letters and play games. It also helps my lessons. This year History and English are very tough so I spend hours on my homework. When I can't understand a subject, I can get help from the Internet. I don't use the Internet for Math because dad helps me with it. Can you use a computer? What is 10 your favourite computer game?

What other things do I do? I love all kinds of sports. I can swim and I can ride a bike well. I meet my friends at the weekend and go riding in the country. The weather is usually hot and sunny here in Brazil. There isn't any snow even in winter so I can't ski but I like watching the Winter Olympic Games. Do you like music? I love all kinds of music and I can 15 dance very well. I also play the piano and the guitar but my sister is bothered with my music. She loves the piano but she doesn't like it when I play. She leaves the room when I start playing it. She says I don't play music but I only make a noise! Can you play an instrument?

How do you spend your holidays? My favourite place is an island. Coda Island is near the 20 coast about 50 kilometres from my home. I go there with my family and have picnics on the beach. The sea isn't very warm but it isn't a problem for me. I love swimming. I like the island because it is very quiet (there are no people) and because it is very noisy (there are a lot of birds). We watch the birds and take photographs of them but we don't go very near because they deride people and fly away when they see someone around. 25

What about you? Please send me an email soon.

Best wishes,

Juan

THE DUKE

Clarence Darrow Tully was a tall, good-looking, and intelligent man. He worked as a reporter at first and eventually became the publisher of two newspapers in Arizona. He was very successful in his career. There was, however, something unusual about Tully that was a secret for a long time.

- 5 When Clarence Darrow Tully was a young man, he told everyone to call him “Duke.” He copied that name from a famous movie actor, whom Americans liked because he was strong, tough, and brave. Tully wanted to be admired for the same reasons as this actor was. He also believed that men in military uniforms, too, looked strong, tough, and brave. Tully wanted very much to make this impression on others. His desire for 10 this image got stronger and stronger as time went on.

- He tried to join the Air Force, but he had poor vision and couldn’t pass the eye test, so he was not accepted. His brother, on the other hand, became a Marine pilot. But he was killed in service two years later. When this happened, Tully began to put his imagination to work: he started to tell his brother’s story as if it was his own. At first, 15 he simply claimed he was in the Air Force. And in time, he got a promotion in his career in the imaginary story of himself: he became a second lieutenant, then a first lieutenant, then a major.

- When Tully went to military meetings as a reporter, he would dress in a military uniform. As he became more comfortable with the uniform and his stories about the 20 Air Force, he began to wear medals of honour. This imaginary life got to such a point where Tully himself could not tell the difference between fact and fiction.

- As Tully was doing well in his reporting business, people trusted and respected him as a soldier, too. He was always careful and consistent when he talked about his “military” adventures; he told believable stories. By doing this, he deceived everyone 25 for many years.

- But then something changed Tully’s whole life. In his newspaper, he published some negative articles about a well-known lawyer of his city. The lawyer became very angry with Tully and he decided to investigate Tully’s personal life. Soon, he discovered that Tully was a liar. He publicized the fact that Tully told untrue stories about himself. In 30 this way, everybody learnt about the real Tully.

Tully immediately admitted being dishonest and resigned from his job. He put himself in the care of a psychiatrist in order to discover why he did this. And the fantasy life-style of “Duke” Tully ended.
